2021 Annual General Meeting Statement

In line year-to-date operating performance

2021 Annual General Meeting (“AGM”)
Mediclinic, the diversified international private healthcare services group, will today host its 2021 AGM. As explained in the 2021 notice of AGM and following the online shareholder engagement event on Monday, 19 July 2021, today’s AGM will be purely functional, limited principally to putting the resolutions to shareholders and calling the poll. There will be no presentations regarding the Company’s business or current trading and directors based abroad will not be attending the meeting in person.

In line year-to-date operating performance
Given the strong underlying demand for Mediclinic’s broad range of services across the continuum of care, the Group continues to expect to deliver growth in revenue and EBITDA across all three divisions in the financial year ending 31 March 2022 (“FY22”). Year-to-date operating performance is in line with expectations based on the previously disclosed FY22 guidance. In FY22, pre-COVID-19 seasonal trends which impact operating performance are expected to return and be reflected in the half-year results of Hirslanden and Mediclinic Middle East.

With the ongoing pandemic, varied pace of vaccine rollouts and planning assumptions of further waves and variants causing continued uncertainty on the shape of the recovery, Mediclinic remains cautious as to the full impact of COVID-19 on near-term operating performance. In line with the outlook statement provided as part of the 2021 financial year results, and given the Group’s focus on operational and cost efficiencies, it does not anticipate any long-term structural impediments in returning EBITDA margins at Hirslanden and Mediclinic Southern Africa to pre-pandemic levels. At Mediclinic Middle East, the Group expects margins to continue to gradually increase as it grows its presence across the region, supported by recent expansion and upgrade projects in Dubai and Abu Dhabi.
